A Battery, whether sold separately, or as a component of the Product, will be considered defective only if it fails to perform for a full ninety (90) minutes during required annual testing as provided in the Specifications. This Limited Warranty applies only when (i) Products containing Batteries have been continuously connected to an AC input power source within ninety (90) days of the date of shipment from Current’s facilities or (ii) Batteries sold separately have been placed in Products continuously connected to an AC input power source within ninety (90) days of the date of shipment from Current’s facilities.

EXCLUSIONS: This Limited Warranty is VOID if Purchaser or user fails to comply with any applicable instructions and recommendations of Current; if any components are replaced with components of other manufacturers; or if the Product is operated outside the specified electrical values or is subject to abnormal use or stress, including under/over voltage conditions, excessive switching cycles, and operation in environmental conditions (e.g., ambient temperature) outside normal specified operating range. Products must be properly handled, stored, wired, transported, installed, operated, and maintained in accordance with the applicable Specifications. Current shall have no responsibility for damage resulting from physical damage; exposure to adverse or hazardous chemicals or other substances; use of reactive cleaning agents and/or harsh chemicals to clean the Products; environmental conditions; vandalism; fire; power failure, improper power supply, power surges or dips, and/or excessive switching; fatigue failure or similar phenomena resulting from induced vibrations, harmonic oscillation or resonance associated with movement of air currents around the Product; animal or insect activity. (UL), Standards for the American National Standards Institute (ANSI), in Canada, the Canadian Standards Association (CSA), Europe (CE), Australia (C-Tick); or any cause other than a defect in the material or workmanship of the Product itself.

Current shall have no responsibility under this Limited Warranty for any substantial deterioration in the Product finish that is caused by failure to clean, inspect, or maintain the finish of the Products. During the Warranty Period some staining, chalking, or fading may occur. This is normal aging of the finish and is not a manufacturing defect; therefore, it is not covered by this Warranty. Neither polycarbonate nor acrylic material used in the Products is warranted against yellowing, as yellowing may naturally occur over time due to normal aging. If the Products are used on existing foundations, anchorages or structures, the Purchaser and/or the user is solely responsible for the structural integrity of such existing foundations, anchorages or structures and all consequences arising from their use.

REMEDY: If the Product(s) fail to meet the Warranty set forth above, then Current will, at its option, either (i) repair the defective Product, (ii) provide a free replacement Product or replacement parts, F.O.B. Current’s warehouse, or (iii) refund the purchase price paid to Current for the Product or replacement parts. Any replacement Product or part will be comparable in function but may not be identical to the original. The replacement or repaired Product is warranted for the remainder of the original warranty period. Current is not responsible for labor and other costs associated with removal or reinstallation. Notwithstanding any other potential remedy described herein, if a Battery is determined to be defective during the applicable Warranty Period, Purchaser’s sole and exclusive remedy shall be a prorated discount against the cost of a replacement Battery.

THIS LIMITED WARRANTY IS VOID WITH RESPECT TO ANY PRODUCT WHICH IS NOT USED FOR THE PURPOSE FOR WHICH IT WAS DESIGNED OR IF ANY REPAIRS OR ALTERATIONS ARE MADE BY ANY PERSON NOT AUTHORIZED BY CURRENT IN WRITING.

The user must keep adequate records of operating history, maintenance, and/or testing and provided such records to Current upon request to substantiate that the Products have failed to comply with the terms of this Limited Warranty. The adequacy of records shall be determined in the sole discretion of Current. Adequate records for proof of operation/testing include, but are not limited to, National Fire Protection Association (NFPA) 101-required periodic testing documentation.

HOW TO MAKE A WARRANTY CLAIM: Current must issue a Return Material Authorization (RMA#) for all requests for warranty review. To make a warranty claim, retain the failed Products and notify your Current sales or customer service representative in writing within thirty (30) days of the failure.
